

How Jennifer Inspires her Audience

What sort of speaker are you looking for?

Turn away now if you're prepared to book someone unheard of in their field, inexperienced, nervous, and dull.

On the other hand, if you want someone passionate about their subject, confident in their knowledge, inspirational in their delivery, and personable in their approach, then you've come to the right place!

I'm Jennifer Hampson and I specialise in helping organisations improve their leadership and results through the creation of a coaching culture.

And how do I do this?

Well, often the first contact I have with potential clients is when they book me to give a talk to their management team. They want to test the water – is coaching for them? Can I explain what coaching means in practice? Will I ignite a spark of interest in a somewhat cynical audience?

The answer is yes, yes and yes!

I know because in over 90% of cases I'm asked back to work with the client.

So, what can I deliver for you as a guest speaker?

- An engaging, interactive session that grabs people's attention, holds their interest, and keeps them active as they have a go at using a coaching approach on themselves and each other
- Fascinating insights and examples from almost 20 years in business, spanning 3 continents, multiple cultures and unique experiences
- An inspiring message that will make the audience sit up, take stock, and leave them wanting to take ACTION!

Jennifer Hampson established Baxter Associates Ltd. in 2000 to help organisations improve their leadership and results through the creation of a coaching culture.

She is a highly sought-after speaker, trainer and coach in the UK and internationally, combining vast experience with a personable approach.

Typically, her clients comment on her passion for coaching, her engaging personal anecdotes that bring the subject to life, and the inspiring effect she has on them to learn more about this style of leadership and get started straight away.

One of the many compliments she has received is:

"I feel really empowered – literally a light has been switched on. Thank you so much"
